There's nothing to do in my town
You can sit around get drunk all time
Is your heart working? I'm a jerk in disguise Telling my lies
Living my life beneath my disguise

There's nothing to do in my town
You can sit around and smoke all night
I know a kid where smoking is his only life
Every time he lights up he says, "This is my life."
All of my friends need women to make them feel good I myself could use anything you got so give it here, to me

I make them laugh I make them cry
I don't know why
And I'm trying to quit but it's the same old shit you hear all the time
I know a kid where crying is his only life
Every time he cries he says, "Rich this is my life"
All of my friends need something to make them feel good
I myself could use a woman right now, yeah, yeah
I myself could use a woman right now

My friend told me about the girl he had last night
I'm thinking he shouldn't say that about her
That ain't right
But he's trying to quit and it's the same old shit you hear all the time

I know a girl where feeling guilty is her life
When she sins she confesses this is her life
She goes to the booth and says "Hey father, this is my life
You know I'm trying to quit" but it's the same old shit you hear all the time

All of my friends need something
Yeah, yeah
And all I need is anything
