Somedays she's an eagle flying high
Reaching for heights unforeseen
Trying to cope with the body
Of a woman and the mind of a child
She'd left behind
The child she'd always been

Sometimes she will hide a broken wing
Ashamed to let you see
Some foolish thing that's so small
It doesn't matter, but to her
It's a thing she couldn't share
She couldn't make a scene

She's a lady lady lady lady lady
She'll always be in my heart
Even in the end as a start
She's a lady lady lady lady lady
We'll never be far apart
Even in the end when tear drops start

Seasons will take her by surprise
Changing her life and her dreams
Sometimes she looks
Like she isn't gonna make it
So you're there
To catch her in the air
Before she's fallen free
