See those lines on your face
You see wrinkles I see grace
More beauty than you know
No, you don't have to despair
At those strands of grey in your hair
They compliment the wisdom in your soul

Every year that passes by I only love you more
Every day brings us closer still
And every night I close my eyes and pray we have forever
Cause I love the way we're growing old together

When I look down this road of life
I see you there by my side
Just like it's always been Still so many paths to take Still so many memories left to make
The kind we've made time and time again

Every year that passes by I only love you more
Every day brings us closer still
And every night I close my eyes and pray we have
forever
Cause I love the way we're growing old together

Every year that passes by I only love you more
Every day brings us closer still
And every night I close my eyes and pray we have
forever
Cause I love the way we're growing old together
