How is it so that we're here again?
I thought we'd both moved on since then.
And now I hear your sweet voice say
That all you want to do is stay.

So how can I say no?
When you swear to me that the love you have still shows.
Oh how can I say no?
When the warmth that's in your heart for me still glows.

There were so many sleepless nights
And every single day we used to fight.
And now I hear your sweet voice say
That all you want to do is stay.

So how can I say no?
When you swear to me that the love you have still
shows.
Oh how can I say no?
When the warmth that's in your heart for me still glows.

So do we have a chance to build a love to last?
Do we have a chance or has it all just passed?

So how can I say no?
When you swear to me that the love you have still
shows.
Oh how can I say no?
When the warmth that's in your heart for me still glows.
So how can I say no?
