Another day comes, you get and go
Your ready to do your best.
You're busting your ass, but no-one seems impressed

Ain't nothing wrong with just getting along.
You think you're doing alright
But you're walking into a wrecking ball collide.

Nowadays, trying to figure out who you wanna be.
Trying to tear your friends from your enemies.
That's the way it plays Nowadays.

Nowadays, trying to make some sense
About the state of things.
Hoping that better times are what tomorrow brings
