"Possessive Obsession"

You are so weak
with you possessive obsession

Your mind created such a dream but you were blind to the obscene How could neither one foresee That day that would come to be

You are so weak
with your possessive obsession

The blood and bruises burn in tears
The pain could take so many years to get over This man who drew himself so near Untainted love to here to fear

You are so weak
with your possessive obsession

Castrated man, a broken shell
Unmasked abuse is where you dwell
Is it so hard to tame the swell?
Your sadist mind belongs in hell

You are so weak
with your possessive obsession

Your are so weak Code needs my Aggression
