Maybe you want another world
One where heaven doesn't weigh so much
Maybe you'll find another girl
One you can feel when you do not touch

Well I've got something
Warm inside me
It won't let you fall
'Til I see

Somewhere better than this place
Some night you'll open your eyes and live far away
Somewhere better than the world

I'm an aviator now
Atlas hold me in your arms, I'll fly
Over this tenement waterfall
This wet buries all the tears we've cried

I dream of you coming to me
Swimming in a water
Many hearts I've known
Beneath new stars they're calling

Somewhere better than this place

Oh, don't stay at home with your momma in the dark
Go find the arc
Show them the Atlas' 'n' Marker
You walk into school like you got nothin' to win
They won't let you in without Atlas' 'n' Marker

Ooh, my sister's buried here so deep
I hear her digging in her sleep

Somewhere better than his place
Sometimes she closes her eyes
She's out in space
Somewhere better than the world where we live
