some people get caught up in things money,power,fame,social climbing some people just keep forgetting where they come from, where they're going

(chorus)

some people don't like to stick around when times are tough, when you're knocked down some people will cut and run when the lights are off, when the party's done I'm not like that I'm not some people, I'm gonna be there until the stars fall from the sky it doesn't matter whatever happens nothing could steal me from your side some people are only skin deep always looking for the cover of a magazine i know that sometimes it seems like people give up too easily

(chorus)

sometimes i feel like i could do it all i hope you feel the same when you hear this song so any little thing that i can do,it doesn't matter ill do it for you!

I'm not some people I'm gonna be there, until the stars fall from the sky
it doesn't matter whatever happens
