(W. Nelson)

I can tell that you're already growin' tired of me
You want no part of me
Even started lyin' to me
And if you started out to break this heart inside of me
Congratulations to you dear, you're doin' fine.

I pass you on the street and you don't speak to me
You just look at me
Then you walk away from me
And if you started out to make a fool of me
Congratulations to you dear, you're doin' fine.

Well you should be commended for the sorrow you
caused me
How does it feel to be the queen of misery
If you started out to break this heart inside of me
Congratulations to you dear, you're doin' fine.

Well you should be commended for the sorrow you
caused me
How does it feel to be the queen of misery
And if you started out to break this heart inside of me
Congratulations to you dear, you're doin' fine.

Congratulations to you dear, you're doin' fine...
