The kisses that you used to give are the sweet, sweet kisses I will miss

You don't love me anymore and I can tell, I can tell Another boy has made you change, when I'm around you're acting strange
You don't love me anymore and I can tell.

Maybe you can bring yourself to tell me of him
After thinking about the love we used to share
When you're holding me I know you're thinking of him
No, you don't love me anymore and I can tell.

No, you don't love me anymore and I can tell...
