Another empty day
And this war inside
Like a fool I sent you away
Now I'm cursing my pride
I would give anything just to have you back in my life
I would do anything for you
But here I am with my foolish heart
That would not forgive you
That hurt you so much
Watching my world as it falls apart
There's no living without you...
For me and my foolish heart
You tried but I refused
To let you make amends
I know there's no excuse
For the things that I said
I would give anything
Just to have you back in my life
I would do anything for you
But here I am with my foolish heart
That would not forgive you
That hurt you so much
Watching my world as it falls apart
There's no living without you...
For me and my foolish heart
I was wrong and I know it
But I know it too late
The wheel turns so they say
Well that's my fate
And here I am with my foolish heart
That would not forgive you
That hurt you so much
Watching my world as it falls apart
There's no living without you...
For me and my foolish heart
Yeah my foolish heart
Watching my world as it falls apart
My foolish heart
