It used to be just you and me
We could hold on forever
It used to be we were so carefree
We would always be together
But lately baby when I look in your eyes
Can't seem to find you at all
Something's happened to turn you around
So can you tell me baby
Tell me where are you now

Where are you, where are you now
'Cause I just don't get it
Where are you, where are you now
'Cause it's gone in a minute

What used to be so fragile and free
Couldn't get any better
What used to be easy for you and me
Now it's swept away forever
There's something missing in both our lives
It's the tender moments we shared
I can't live without it
I can't survive
So can you tell me baby
Tell me where are you now

Where are you, where are you now
'Cause I just don't get it
Where are you, where are you now
'Cause it's gone in a minute

Just tell me baby can we work it out
(work it out)
No need to fuss or fight
And we don't need to shout
Remember you said you would always be there
Well I need you now
Gotta know that you care

Just tell me baby can we work it out
(work it out)

No need to fuss or fight
And we don't need to shout
Remember you said you would always be there
Well I need you now
Gotta know that you care

Where are you, where are you now
'Cause I just don't get it
Where are you, where are you now
'Cause it's gone in a minute

Where are you, where are you now
'Cause I just don't get it
Where are you, where are you now
'Cause it's gone in a minute
Where are you, where are you now
