I've got this picture here inside my head of you one morning early you were still asleep in bed the dog was snoring as I left to catch a plane and I saw your hairband laying there I took it with me

I remember how you looked in love like angels kissed your face there was nothing you couldn't rise above you found my hiding place you turned me to the sun when you pulled the thread I came undone I heard you say

Let me in Why don't you let me in Let me in
why won't you let me in

Now those memories all hold on to me like pages from a book I wasn't meant to see A rock of ages fall to pieces in my hands as the ring slips off your finger I run to catch it

And tonight I'm lying next to you
I hear you breathing There's so much to say but words are few farewell to Eden though I'm standing at the gates I'm on the outside and I'm looking in Can you hear me

Let me in
Why won't you let me in
Let me in
why won't you let me in

I caused a flood but I still let you drown your in my blood God knows I won't back down without your love the world won't turn around

Let me in
Why won't you let me in
Let me in
why won't you let me in

I don't think the girl's in love
I don't think the girl's in love
(repeats)
