Waking up in the night
The fear comes down
Oh
And here I go again with the insecurities
Doubts are running themselves all over me

Help
Help is on the way
She don't have to say
Anything
She reaches out her hand
I know she understands
All of me
Nobody loves me like she

Just another face in The Human Sea
But she gives me a reason to believe
I myself am an island in The Human Sea
And I know I am never gonna leave
I was running like a river
Running like a river before

Standing on the beach of The Human Sea
I feel so absolutely insignificant
One more dreamer in a city of heartbreak

Help
Help is on the way
She don't have to say
Anything
She reaches out her hand
I know she understands
All of me
Nobody loves her like me

Just another face in The Human Sea
But she gives me a reason to believe
I myself am an island in The Human Sea
And I know I am never gonna leave
I was running like a river

I don't want to seem too dependent
But I guess it already shows
By the short hairs I will follow
Every where that she goes

Just another face
Help
Help is on the way
She don't have to say anything
I know she understands
She reaches out her hand to me
Nobody lover her like me

Just another life in a Human Sea
I'm just the next one looking for an answer
Take your partners hand for the human dance
Won't you lead
You know I'm not a dance
Just another face to The Human Sea
but she gives me a reason to believe
I find myself an island in The Human Sea
And I know I'm never gonna leave
Running like a River
Find myself an island in The Human Sea
And I know I'm never gonna leave
Running like a River
