Oh, you won't see me smile again, no, not for a while It's way down here on lonely street there's heart next by to mine
And I tried to hold my head up and forget about the past
My heart becomes tear drops fount' till I break down and laugh

Oh, I cried, cried, cried when you left me
I tried, tried, tried to forget your memory
But when I see your photograph, it tears my heart in half
And it only hurts me, baby, when I laugh

I think I'm going crazy, look what you've done to me
A victim of your reckless ways is all I've come to be You by sitting in the corner knows exactly what to play Singing the blues alone to lose while I laugh the hurt away

Oh, I cried, cried, cried when you left me
I tried, tried, tried to forget your memory
But when I see your photograph it tears my heart in half
And it only hurts me, baby, when I laugh

And then I see your photograph it tears my heart in half
And it only hurts me, baby, when I laugh
Yes, it only hurts me, baby, when I laugh
