From under a dark cloud came forth the rage
The next deadly chapter now turned a page
Abiders of evil were to be born
Of hell - The nightmare - The devil's spawn

A doorway cracked open - The mountains tore
Out from the darkness the wrath would pour
Intent on destruction they filled the night
With keepers of souls they must all now fight

It's the storm - The storm

In the side of the living they placed a thorn
In a battle of wills they brought forth the storm
The torment engulfed all - No light was spared
The pain cast amongst them was all that glared

It's the storm - The storm

No one was listening - All were dead
Rivers that once were blue, flowed deep red
From deep within hell their deathly cries
No rapture - Their failure - A world's demise
