why cry over them and waste tears they betray me with no price and subject is closed don't cry my eye for who and why from this moment crying is forbidden

they betray me with no price and subject is closed why cry over them and waste tears laug in front off them my eye for my sake a tear it's mean weakniess don't embarass me a paper for them is my fire and my years dont cry my eyes for who and why from the moment crying is forbidden my eye fro my sake be strong don't make them be happy these are my tears and not worthless
