You and I won't for ever you can feel it, don't you lie (don't you lie)! please don't cry now or never put your hands up, touch the sky!

never thought could hold you baby never thought could hold you in my arms
never thought could hold you baby
I never thought you could be mine.

never thought could hold you baby
never thought could hold you in my arms
never thought could hold you baby
I never thought you could be mine.

Like a dream, being together please don't try to wake me up Break the rules, now or never Come and kiss me don't you stop!

never thought could hold you baby
never thought could hold you in my arms
never thought could hold you baby
I never thought you could be mine

I never thought you could be mine

never thought could hold you baby
never thought could hold you in my arms
never thought could hold you baby
I never thought you could be mine
I never thought you could be mine
