Walking on broken stones
And listening to a foreign radio
I never knew where you'd gone
I only knew where you're going

I sing about you
'Cause nothing's the same without you
I know what the truth is
And what your excuse is

Are you getting on where you stay?
The same blue sky every day
I never saw the time you chose
And still the wonder's growing

I sing about you
'Cause nothing's the same without you
I know what your excuse is Sometimes I wonder what the use is
I wonder

Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey
Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey
Everyone's bleeding but me

I sing about you
'Cause I lost the truth about you
All that surrounds me is everything
I found when you were near me

I sing about you
'Cause nothing's the same without you
I know what the truth is
And what your excuse is

I know what it is about you
That still makes me never doubt you
There's no day without you
That wouldn't be better, sticking together

I know, you say
Everything will go away

Now I know, you say everything
Everything
