The boys, they're a-shouting
And the girls, they're a-dancing
'Cause it ain't no crime
The cops, they're a-hating
While the kids, they're a-waiting
For a chance to break their balls

I know that you only wanna feel
Everything you've only felt while in your dreams
So dance like you've never danced
Scream like you've never screamed
'Cause this one might be your last

I will not bow down to your God
This is not who I am
I will not give in to your lies
This is not who I am

Your theocratic neo-fascist ideology
Is only getting in the way of my biology
Your book says "no", but my body wants more
Oh Lord, won't you help me, I've lost control

I know that you only wanna feel
Everything you've only felt while in your dreams
So dance like you've never danced
Scream like you've never screamed
'Cause this one might be your last

I will not bow down to your God
This is not who I am
I will not give in to your lies
This is not who I am

You can burn down my house
Stone me for life

Take what you want
Do what you like, but you'll never succeed
No, you'll never succeed
At breaking my heart
Breaking my soul
I've reached a point where I just don't care no more

The pigs, they're a-preaching
While the preacher is teasing
All the pretty little boys
The empire is falling
The architects are running
It's time to raise your voice

You can burn down my house
Stone me for life
Take what you want
Do what you like, but you'll never succeed
No, you'll never succeed
At breaking my heart
Breaking my soul
I've reached a point where I just don't care no more
