You say I've done you wrong,
I've wrecked the happy home.
We've tried so many times, we both know when.
Let's take another chance,
To renew an old romance.
And if we love each other, time will tell.

Oh, I know, dear, what it means to live without you.
These lonely nights are drivin' me insane.
But before I'll hurt the one I love so dearly,
When people ask what's wrong, I'll take the blame.

Instrumental break.
Well, I know, dear, what it means to live without you.
These lonely nights are drivin' me insane.
But before I'll hurt the one I love so dearly,
When people ask what's wrong, I'll take the blame.

Yes, when people ask what's wrong, I'll take the blame.
