How does it feel when someone breaks your heart to have a crack with love falling apart How does it feel
when he disappears from you searching everywhere to find some kind of clue

I know some things change and you have to deal with them forever but babe you can make it through this cause your strong, not wrong, your tough enough your love is way bigger than us you might have times where it's too bad you might have times where it's too good but now's the time where you say

How does it feel oooh yeah

I never knew, how it was when you came across me in the middle of art I didn't know, if it was even love so where is the love machine

and you have to deal with them forever

you might have times where it's too bad

color in the heart, to fill it all up no more missing parts for this no more break-ups with all the types in the world that you can find don't worry yourself off your not blind

and you have to deal with them forever

you might have times where it's too bad
