Is it too late to stop
This pain that I created
From eclipsing the million
Precious things we shared

Is it too late I realized
I've been such a fool
Is it too late I just want

One more chance to hold your hand again
Once more chance to be the one your heart beats for again

If it's okay I'd like
A minute to speak with you
I'm sure that he will understand
Just want to say that you're
The best to ever happen to me
If it's okay I just want

One more chance to be your guiding light
One more chance to be the one who makes things right
again

One more chance to paint your brighter days
One more chance to be the reason you're okay

One more chance to kiss you in the dark
One more chance to never be apart
I promise I won't break your heart
Baby please, can we just start again?
