From the moment
I laid eyes on you
Something was working my heart
Didn't know if I could finish
This thing that I would start
Your love has taken me
To heights I've never known
But now that you're leaving
My love will have to keep me strong
OH?

Two different worlds
So far apart
So far far away
So close in my heart
Two different worlds

From the moment I laid eyes on you
I never thought I'd fall so hard
Our hearts so different
So full of love
You made me reach inside myself
And pulled me out
How can I thank you
When I know that your leaving
I want you to stay? stay with me forever

Two different worlds
So far apart
So far far away
So close in my heart
Two different worlds

Your love has taken me to Heights I've never known
I wanna keep it going on and on and on?
Please don't tell me that you got to go because
Two different worlds
So far apart
So far far away
So close in my heart

Two different worlds
