Always in the back of my mind
Somehow I will find the time
To visit you to learn from you
But in trying to be everything
I'm missing the most important thing
To know you, to feel you
Help me just find the time
And remember my light

[Chorus]

I will come to you today
Nothing will take your place
I will push the world away
And I will run to you
Everything else can wait
Nothing matters more than you today

Always someone needing my time
Always something on my mind
Weighs on me, pulls on me
Help me lay down my load
For what I need most

[Chorus]
