How much would you give me Mister pawnbroker
For this one slightly used wedding band.
Though parting will bring sorrow
I can't face life tomorrow
With this one slightly used wedding band.

Just one slightly used wedding band
The symbol of love's great command
Like this ring that I hold
All our love turned just as cold
As this one slightly used wedding band.

You see sir that's all he left me this and a memory
Of a love that was born of a lie
Pardon me for crying so tell me are you buying
This one slightly used wedding band...
