

Riley Jeannie C "The Price I Pay To Stay"

Visit "The Price I Pay To Stay" on MotoLyrics.com

(Ed Bruce)

There was a time I really thought it did some good To get down on my knees to you and I would But baby now that's all changed today's a brand new day
And you ain't worth the price I pay to stay.

Just because you're the best looking man that I've ever seen
Ain't reason enough to have to treat you like a king There's a harder lesson you need to learn and it might as well be today
Baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay.

I'm tired of tryin' to turn the other cheek to you
And never knowin' which way to turn cause you've made up
A brand new set of rules
Somewhere I picked up a little more pride than I had yesterday
Baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay.

--- Instrumental ---

I'm tired of tryin' to turn the other cheek to you
And never knowin' which way to turn cause you've
made up
A brand new set of rules
Somewhere I picked up a little more pride than I had
yesterday
Baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay...

Visit Riley Jeannie C page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.