Hail to those who have come from the sunlight that
surrounds you
Pray for those who have gone from the sunlight that
surrounds you
surrounds you
surrounds you
Pretend all the good things are for you

surrounds you
Hail to whatever you've found in the sunlight that
surrounds you
Pretend all the good things are for you, pretend all the good things are for me
And the weather changes not halfway between your house and mine
Pretend all the good things are for you, pretend all the
house and mine
And all of the good things are for me, and all of the good things are for you
house and mine
