seeing the cold,
in the windows above,
its all frost,
but not in your heart of love,
so could you make a little room,
and change a little space,
and me being different,
should put a smile on your face,
let the littlethings go now,
its all in the past,
and putting me in the present,
this new thing could last.

(chorus)
being different,
nothing is wrong with that,
i don't have to prove myself,
so what are you looking at?
being different,
not all the same,
being different,
isn't lame.

i wanna be different,
not all the same,
i wanna see what happens,
and not be blamed,
i wanna be in your life,
there's no wall blocking you,
all we need is to communicate,
what else can we do?

being different,
nothing is wrong with that,
i don't have to prove myself,
so what are you looking at?
being different,
not all the same,
being different,
isn't lame.

all the the pictures i see,
from back in the day,
and all the things,
that you wanted to say,
you have the chances,
which you don't have to take,
right-away,
just take-your-time!

being different,
nothing is wrong with that,
not all the same,
being different,
isn't lame.

nothing is wrong with that,
not all the same,
being different,
isn't lame,
ohhhh isn't lame...
