It almost looks as when the sun rise when you open your eyes and it's amazing I lay beside you every morning waiting for that main thing when you look at me

I stop what I'm doing cause I'm busy looking into those eyes Everything changes, I'm somewhere else cause they just take me to another world

Don't let me know that I'm just in a dream
You see, what would it show
Look how happy I seem
So don't turn away, you will ruin our thing
So just stay with me

I could fly right up to heaven even though I never have known how
When we stand here face to face we're in a different place just where I wanna be When our two souls meet, come feel my heartbeat
Then you'll find it beats too fast Everything changes, I'm somewhere else cause they
just take me to another world

So don't let me know that I'm just in a dream
You see, what would it show
Look how happy I seem
So just stay with me
