Oh how can this be
You're still here though we've ended a story
No you don't know how I feel and certainly, you shouldn't worry

Oh, why won't you let this be
You're still here though we've ended a story
No you don't know how I feel and certainly, you
shouldn't worry

Now you refuse to leave but I don't want you're company
What is the use in trying
Cause now I choose to be with nobody else but me
This is goodbye to you

What did you expect
We tried and it didn't fit you
No we can't work this out
This is not what I am in to
But you refuse to leave...

It's time to leave
You've got no reason to stay
It's time to leave
Do you hear when I say that
It's a relief to have you away
It is time for you to leave me

More , I needed more of your love

But you refuse to leave...

It's time to leave...
