Lately I've been sitting all alone and my mind has frozen time;
but the clock is ticking

Tell me would you want to kiss me,
hold me in your arms and squeeze me
if you knew I was a beast

[Chorus (next two verses):]

But in the light everything looks beautiful and bright,
I can see no clouds up in the sky

Your sparkling eyes
Make it hard to see behind the lies
Why do I put up with this disguise

Î,

Lately I've been sitting in the dark and our moments at the park seem so far and distant

Tell me would you want to kiss me,
hold me in your arms and squeeze me

(chorus x2)
