Sometimes I can't breathe,
Sometimes I'm just blind
All for love only you...
Why I should know this would happen
By simply hanging out with you again
That was a terrible mistake I made
And that should not have ever committed, forgive me baby
For your break me heart the pieces

The love hurts
After your keep me
The pains me to remind you
After everything that we had spent together
And I find it hard to reopen these eyes
That you said you looked like a crystal
Keep me here alone and unaided
You left without saying goodbye, and that left me so broken heart

Sometimes I can hardly open my eyes, Sometimes I can hardly say that if Because just as I remember to say that if I'd give you another chance, you still only now
In my heart, heart is in pieces
And the harder it will heal.
Tell me just why it is that you have done
But that you wanted a second chance
Only baby chases love

The love hurts
After your keep me
The pains me to remind you
After everything that we had spent together
And I find it hard to reopen these eyes
That you said you looked like a crystal
Keep me here alone and unaided
You left without saying goodbye, and that left me so
broken heart

There would be nothing like you and I know that if

But a little detail you don't know
That never find anyone in the world
Love you and love you like me
For I thought I had my eyes open (that silly idea)
I don't know me you just had existed

The love hurts
After your keep me
The pains me to remind you
After everything that we had spent together
And I find it hard to reopen these eyes
Keep me here alone and unaided
You left without saying goodbye, and that left me so
broken heart
