I know a girl who's brokenhearted
Over a boy who could not share his feelings
She really loved him

And I know a boy who could not say just
Three little words that would make her day
It hurt her, though he really loved her

If there's a lesson to be learned
It's a hard one to take
When it falls apart
It's so hard to unbreak
So don't you ever make that mistake

Tell how you love her
How much you love her
Don't turn away
Don't be afraid
Just tell her you love her

Time marches on
And the boy grew older
Everyday wondering if he told her
Something would it be different

If there's a lesson to be learned
It's a hard one to take
When it falls apart
It's so hard to unbreak
So don't you ever make that mistake

Tell how you love her
How much you love her
Don't turn away
Don't be afraid
Just tell her you love her
