My love for you keeps growing, day by day I find
My love I'm knowing more and more

That I just can't live without you
No and I can't go on without you

For you my love gets stronger day by day, I find
That I no longer can stay away

Cause I just can't live without you
No and I can't go on without you

I heard your voice when I awoke last night
I reached for you but you weren't there

My love, I know you're feeling so afraid to try
Again it's not easy when he still cares

But I just can't live without you
No and I can't go on without you
No I just can't live without you

Cause I just can't live without you
No and I can't go on without you
