Hope you know you're beautiful
Always knew your eyes were true

Something made me see you as you are
Hope you know that I will never leave you now
How many times must I go through this over you?
I want my friends to see that you are beautiful

No one else can see you like me
Cause I know you're only in my head

Something made me see you as you are
Hope you know that I will never leave you now
How many times must I go through this over you?
I want my friends to see that you are beautiful

Oh, my head, why you forgive yourself
No one else wants to remember you

How many times must I go through this over you?
I want my friends to see that you are beautiful
