I can feel the battle waitin' on your lips with every kiss
It just don't feel like it used to.
Late at night, when I hold you tight,
something's just not right.
There's a distance between me and you,
Like I never knew,
And it scares me to death to ask what's wrong.
But if I'm about to lose you, baby, just go on!
And kill me now.
You might as well go ahead and just lay me down.
If you're really leaving heaven take me now
Cause I wouldn't want to live without having you around.
If that's what's going down
Baby, just kill me now.
Lately you've been changing everything I love
about you.
It's like you're slowly fading.
When the telephone rings I hear whispering from the other room
And my mind just goes crazy
Wondering, baby.
Everyday is just another day growing apart from you,

So if it's over just do what you gotta do!
And kill me now.
You might as well go ahead and just lay me down.
If you're really leaving heaven take me now
Cause I wouldn't want to live without
having you around.
If that's what's going down,
Baby, just kill me now
If you're already too far gone
To turn around
Have mercy on my heart!
And kill me now.
You might as well go ahead and just lay me down.
If you're really leaving heaven take me now,
Cause I wouldn't want to live without

having you around.
If that's what going down,
If that's what going down,
Baby, just kill me now.
Baby, just kill me now.
