Conversations with you
Kept me up tonight
I've been so waiting for this
Contradictions are all I have
Or is it you
I've lost all confidence

And how can you tell me
The way I should live my life
I'm always second best to
Somebody else
I am on this train that's passing you by
See you running away with your hand in mine

Is there anything that I can say
That will change your mind
That you're holding in
I've let you down in some ways
Through this
I'm only one man

And how can you tell me
The way I should live my life
I'm always second best to
Somebody else
I am on this train that's passing you by
See you running away with your hand in mine
I am on this train that's passing you by
See you running away with your hand in mine

And how can you tell me
The way I should live my life
I'm always second best to
Somebody else
I am on this train that's passing you by
See you running away with your hand in mine
I am on this train that's passing you by
See you running away
