A world designed by men in grey
The only colour that remains
How long will it last untill we fade away?

Machines
Concrete
Flowers under steel
Tell me if that really is worth living for?

Give me fire
Give me hearts that beat
Healing for what makes us bleed
In our brave new world
Brave new world
You must close your eyes to see
Our new reality
In our brave new world
Brave new world

Bridges here are burning down
Debris and ashes all around
The truth is burried somewhere in the underground
Consume...
Erase...
Repeat it all again...
Why don't you strive for something beautiful?

Give me fire
Give me hearts that beat
Healing for what makes us bleed
In our brave new world
Brave new world
You must close your eyes to see
Our new reality
In our brave new world
Brave new world
