Another quarter mile
We can't stop running, must be on time
Holding the lost files
A drop off coming too soon for us

This is the switch
One day, one far from we're in now
One day we'll look back and laugh
If we make the checkpoint

All our worries will be gone for some time
A stolen suitcase full of your secrets
Soon will unwind

This is the switch
Play innocent, we're innocent
I wash my hands one day
One day far from we're in now
One day we'll look back and laugh
One day we'll look back and laugh

We'll move to a foreign town
In Argentina, if you're down
No one will recognize us
Spending with our new disguises on

If only the switch would come
One day, one far from we're in now
One day we'll look back and laugh
We'll look back and laugh
We'll look back and laugh
We'll look back and laugh
