Hey my soul sister don't you look so sad It's time to stop thinking about what you ain't got And see the things you have Now don't you go and throw it all throw it all away Tomorrow doesn't have to be just another yesterday

Ride the storm, life goes on, life goes on, ride the storm

'Cause I can't watch you drown away, drown in your own tears
Everybody gets hurt sometimes and everybody has fears
You say you want to end it all, but don't you get that rad baby
'Cause if you want the good things, you got to taste the bad sometimes That's how it is

Ride the storm, life goes on, life goes on, ride the
storm

'Cos I know that life can get hazy
But don't let this world drive you crazy, hear me baby...
So don't let your world turn a permanent shade of blue You've got to learn to kick the habit baby Before it starts to kick you yes it will Don't you know you're bold enough and strong enough to fight
Someway somehow you know it's going to be all right, that's how it is

storm.
