"Apricot Tea"

If you want to lay at the bottom of the atlantic ocean
I'll be the one that comes with my ship
And drops the anchor down oh
Will you be the one that smiles for me
Oh will you be the one that smiles for me
Oh will you be the one that smiles for me
I'll bake you muffins and apricot tea.
If you want to glide in the night sky
I'll be the one that comes with my plane
And pulls the stars out of the night
And brings them to the day for you oh
Will you be the one that smiles for me
Oh will you be the one that smiles for me
Oh will you be the one that smiles for me
Oh will you be the one that smiles for me
I'll bake you muffins and apricot tea.
