She cries, cries
But her hearts givin' in
She tries, tries
But the walls never give.

In the end, her place in heaven
Is closer to the place that she's in

Will you tell me to be strong
And that love will save us all
Save a place to rest our souls
Then survive

The winds, blowing strong
And the clouds, coming in
To the tears, in the night
Lost, in the winds

I know she'll find, her place in heaven
Erasing the pain that she's in

Will you tell me to be strong
And that love will save us all
Save a place to rest our souls
Then survive

Will you tell me to be strong
And that love will save us all
Save a place to rest our souls
Then survive [x2]

Well, how long will it be ?
How long will it be ?
How long will it be, in love ?

Will you tell me to be strong
And that love will save us all

Save a place to rest our souls
