They're taking her away
My lover bound in chains
I see the fire, the flames are getting higher
I hear her call my name

And she burns
She burns

It's such an old disease
The wanderlust, the hate
I see the pyre, the flames are getting higher
I hear her call my name

And she burns
And she burns now

And as the fire rages higher
I hear her voice cry out

And as they walk away
I'll take it up with god
I see the souls, they're heartless and they're cold so
Ah he should burn the lot

We'll take turns
And they'll learn now

And as the fire rages higher
I hear her voice cry out
Why do they hate me?
Someone save me
I hear her voice cry out

Out, I hear her voice cry
Out, I hear her voice cry
