Joey DeLuxe---Undercover

You take two steps forward, smile and turn on the lights
Just like a scene from a movie that you feel that you own the rights
A bit of sweet talk and magic, a laugh and a little affection
Some alcoholic persuasion, then you groovin' in the proper direction

A secret agent man is always a mystery lover
One smooth operator, working undercover Undercover

Chemistry is crucial when the opposant search for perfection
But keep your eyes wide open, surveillance is the key to detection
You filtrate, investigate, interrogate until you get a clue
You ratiante, enivriate, infatuate your next ingenue

'Til she's nude at the (????) and she longin' like a long lost lover
That's when you know that you're workin' undercover Undercover

You're movin' outside the law, you better watch your back
'Cause she could be a double agent, Matahari may be on your track
You better give her the slip, slip a shadow, baby, shake your tail
'Cause it's one false move and you're dead, you've got to know when to bail

Sam Speed, James Bond, Philip Marlow, secret agent lover
Now, you're (????) and you're goin' undercover Undercover

It's a cover operation and there nothin' to get yourself out of there
You can get bugged, tapped, wired, and then (????)
her snare
If you're of those who can resist the lure of wealth and sex
So wrap it up in your trench coat, baby, I'm praying for
(????)

A secret agent man is always a mystery lover
One smooth operator, working undercover Oh, undercover
Undercover
Yeah, undercover Oooh, undercover

Undercover
Oooh, undercover
Alright, alright, undercover Oh, undercover

Undercover
Oooh, undercover
Oh, undercover
Huh!

Undercover, cover
Undercover, cover
Undercover, cover
Undercover

Undercover Undercover
Undercover Undercover...
