Are there stars outside your window
Are there colors in your sky
It's blue in mine when I think of you
It all just blurs inside
They may call it a temptation
To look you in the eyes
And say to you it's a sacrifice
I won't hesitate to make

You turned out to be
The best thing for me
You turned out to be
The best thing in me

For all my admiration
Of everything that's real
I still lose myself when you look at me
It never seems to heal
You come in all directions
Glow in every light
Spin the words in melody
Sing me home tonight

You turned out to be
The best thing for me
You turned out to be
The best thing in me

Another day I watch go by
Around the corner that's my life
I'm holding onto you
For a moment I'm alive
In this moment I'm inside

You come in all directions
Glow in every light
Spin the words in melody
Sing me home tonight

You turned out to be
The best thing for me

You turned out to be
The best thing in me
