My Eyes so no, but I push right over
Built wide and six feet high but I push right over
Just get me in a room that's dark
And you're looking at an easy mark
One little kiss trips my heart
And jump-starts my motor

Way down I'm a soft touch: I push right over
You don't need to say much, cause I push right over
So baby go dim that light
And start pushing with all your might
And hold on tight, and I'll push right over

Blue eyes and face so pretty
One look and I hit the floor
I'm begging you, stay here with me
I'm never gonna need you more

The room spins and the clocks unwind, and I'm stone-cold sober
I oughta wear a big sign: "I Push Right Over"
Cause I'm crazy for low-cut tops
And you're kicking out all the stops
It's over when the big man drops
And each second he's lower
