When I opened the front door, you looked so surprised
Like you weren't expecting someone quite my size
But I know by those roses, you're calling on a friend
Well, I was just leaving - so just you walk right on in.

If I'd left as early as I always do
I would not be standing face to face here with you I guess you make her happy, and that's all well and good
I was just leaving; now I think I should.

You want what I've got, and she must want you
Now I'm odd man out in a game meant for two...
Sometimes your best move is just to move on
I was just leaving, but now I'll be gone
