

Jeremiah Nolte

"Some Folks Don't"

Visit "Some Folks Don't" on MotoLyrics.com

It ain't science and it ain't math
Plain and simple like a warm sponge bath
No degree needed, I'll take a polygraph
My message is clearly this:

I want to hold you, wrap my arms around you.
Hug you closely, now that I have found you.
True Love's got us, tugging our hearts
Digs in deeper in fits and starts.
May be hard for some to understand it
But Baby I just want to say...
Some folks don't, and that's okay.

All it takes is the taste of your sweet lips
Like holding a glass--my hands around your hips
For this fine wine, I need to take no trips
And all I need to say is this:

I want to hold you, wrap my arms around you.
Hug you tightly, let my love surround you.
True Love's hooks, tugging our hearts
Digs in deeper in fits and starts.
We're so lucky to have found it
Honey, I'm a little sad to say...
Some folks won't, but that's okay.

May be hard for some to understand it
But Baby I just want to say...
Some folks don't, and that's okay.

Submitter's comments:Â

Lyrics written and copyrighted by requester (offered under Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported License).

Visit Jeremiah Nolte page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

