I have been swept away
You have been pushed aside
I've been so consumed with me
You haven't crossed my mind

But even if I ran away
And even if I cross the street
One thing will remain
You will always follow me

And I will, I will, yeah
And I will not be caught without you
And I will, and I will, yeah
I will not be caught without you

Seasons will come and go
And life will not be the same
May that be true for me
That I will grow along the way

I need your presence now
I need your loving grace
I need your comfort here
Leave your kiss upon my face

And I will, and I will, yeah
I will not be caught without you
And I will, I will, yeah
I will not be caught without you

I will, I will, yeah
I will not be caught without you
And I will, I will, yeah
I will not be caught without you

I will not be caught without you
I'll not be caught without you
I'll never caught without you
I'll not be caught without you
